The Reasons of Taking English Department

Along with the development of the times, education is one of the most important aspects that can change the development of the era itself. No exception in the world of campus, choosing a major is something that must be fulfilled by every new student. But on the other hand, choosing a major today will feel more difficult than in the past because now there are many majors that make it a little difficult or prospective students to choose them. They must choose carefully in determining which direction is the most prospective and most needed by today's society. Especially in Indonesia, one of the majors that has a lot of enthusiasts in the English department. What made them choose the major in English? Some of the reasons that made them choose to major in English are: it can be used anywhere, the high probability of being accepted of work, and can become a translator.

The first reason for choosing English major is the large possibility of getting a job. Because Indonesia has a number of job applicants that exceeds the number of employers, this has led many companies especially large companies to limit the number of their employee hires, which resulted in the majority of job applicants not being accepted. However if the job applicant has fluent English language skills, then will make himself appear superior to other job applicants so that the company will experience difficulties in refusing job applications from English language education graduates.

The second reason is that it can be used anywhere. As we all know, English an international language. The proof is that English applications are found anywhere, from smartphones, applications, software languages, to the internet, all of which use English as the language of instruction. So that by choosing an English major, any student will have no difficulty communicating with other people, especially people who speak foreign languages since English has become the second natural language.

The third reason is that we can become a translator. People who choose English may also be translators. Because English being taught is a language that can be used to teach English itself to others. So that English students who work on freelance sites or work part time for companies, they will have the convenience of translating a given project.

In conclusion, by choosing English education, any student will have no difficulty communicating with other people, especially those who speak foreign languages since English has become

Choosing a major today will feel more difficult than in the past because now there are many majors in all fields so that it can make any prospective student feel confused in determining which department has the most broad work prospects and is the most needed by today's society. There is a more important reason besides being a teacher, students who like the world of languages must choose a major in English education today. Because there are several reasons why an English education department should be chosen:

The first, English will be used everywhere, as we know, English is an international language. The proof, applications that use English are found everywhere, from smartphones, applications, software languages, to the internet, all of which use English as the language of instruction. So that by choosing an English education major, any student will have no difficulty communicating with other people, especially people who speak foreign languages.

The second, we can make our own English course. We (students) also have the opportunity to open their own English language courses because the knowledge learned in the English language education department is enough to make students become non-formal English teachers. Even if there is a development that the followers of English courses are increasing, then becoming a teacher of English courses can be used as a main job prospect after graduating from college.

The third, increase the likelihood of being accepted for work, if the job applicant has fluent English language skills, then this will make himself appear superior to other job applicants so that companies will experience difficulties in refusing job applications from English language education graduates.

In conclusion, for students who love the world of languages, especially foreign languages, this English education department is very suitable. It can be concluded that in the English language education department, we (students) will learn about the use of English for academic purposes such as curriculum, educational management, and management science. So, with this complete and specific knowledge, after graduating from college we will easily find work and be accepted to work in many places.

"The reasons of Taking English Department"

The English Department is a community of faculty, staff and students studying the English language and literature and another that related with English language lesson. And the English department is also be cornerstone of the humanities at Stanford. The pioneer faculty of English was an eclectic group of writers, comparativist, and literary scholars. English department is also an important study program for some people because there can be learned about English learning materials, especially for me. Two of the reason of ~~being~~ taking English Department for ~~my~~ the study program on my campus. There the reasons of taking English Department for the study program on my campus are ~~as a~~ ~~was~~ ~~because~~ my favorite subject, want to be lecturer in English.

One of my reasons of taking English Department for study program on my campus is that English lesson is my favorite subject. It is because when I was in senior High School, I entered language class and now I still want to study English more.

My second reasons ~~is~~ for taking English Department for study program on my campus is that I want to be lecturer in English language. Realizing my dream of becoming an English lecturer will make my parents proud of me. I know that is not easy to get it, so I will work and study harder than anyone to achieve my goals.

Everyone must have their own reasons why they are taking ~~my~~ English department for study program on their campus. In English we can learn many things that are needed in our lives. Like being able to communicate directly with strangers, I hopefully what I learn about English language can be useful for everyone.

The reason of taking English Department

I first entered Jain Madura University in 2019. I was nervous because it was not my class but I should have entered University in 2018 but there were a few obstacles so I was a bit late. Before entering, I was actually a little confused about choosing the right study program for me, but I tried to convince myself many times to choose the right study program at first I wanted to choose a study program for kindergarten, because I like children and I thought it was good for me to choose, but when I think about it I seem to want something else, so I thought of other things that I like. Mathematics is one of the options me too, but considering I love math in Elementary school but as an adult I don't seem to like it anymore. After I thought many times I finally choose The English department as my study program, actually My parents did not allow me to choose this Major but I convinced them and they agreed, I'm sure that even though I might get in trouble later if I try there must be way out I have two reasons why I finally taking The English Department.

The first reason I took English department is because besides I like math, I also like English. In English, I have to study more because of course learning a foreign language is not easy, besides I have to understand the contents I also have to know a lot of Vocabulary that needs to be remembered. I think this will be a new experience in my life, I make this a gift that God has given me, so that I know things I don't know yet, because later I will have knowledge that I will share when I become teacher later. Although a little difficult to know English but I also think if you like something then you will be excited to do it, and even now when I have difficulties I am grateful I have good friends in my class right now, they always help me to understand when there are courses that I do not understand.

The second reason I took English department is because English is an international language. I once dreamed that I wanted to around the world, maybe knowing English is the way I make my dreams come true one by one, although it doesn't seem like it will happen for the reason of not having enough money to go there but I'm sure at least I can go abroad even if it's only once in my life because English is an international language, I think that if one days my dreams come true and I know English, I will feel happy because I'm not in vain to take this department, it will be easier to talk with foreigners. and I also think if my dream doesn't come true I might be able to meet foreigners even in the country, and I will be proud of my self when I can find out, and even though when I can't go abroad and can't meet foreigners in the country at least I can share my knowledge with other people when I become a teacher later.

The advantages of having sets of vocabulary

Vocabulary is a set of words that a person has. When we want to learn a language, whether it's Indonesian, Madurese, Russian, Indian, Korean, Mandarin, Chinese and soon. Therefore, we have to learn and master the language by learning a lot of vocabulary. We can see a real example in our daily lives, where a toddler is just learning to speak. They start the speaking process by increasing the vocabulary they absorb in their environment. Gradually the vocabulary they remember and pay attention to around them will make it easier for them to master a language. Likewise, if we want to learn a language, we have to enrich our vocabulary.

Now by having a large collection of vocabulary, we can enrich our knowledge because the more vocabulary we collect and absorb, the more new vocabulary will be, and it will really help you in mastering foreign languages. Collecting vocabulary also makes it easier to interact with our language or foreign languages. Because vocabulary is the initial capital to master a skill such as speaking, listening, reading and writing.

Vocabulary can also increase the level of self-confidence and also gradually we will be able to master grammar by mastering a lot of vocabulary in the world.

So it can be concluded that vocabulary is a set of words that a person has and the advantage of collecting vocabulary is that we can increase self-confidence, as an initial capital to master a skill and gradually we will be able to master grammar by it self. //

English is an international language where the world of Trade (E-Commerce) and science & Technology have been very much mastered by this language. Moreover as today many Universities in Indonesia have provided the English Language Department. But students who will enter college are still confused about their choice of majoring in. Choosing a college major is difficult and must be adjusted to your interests and passions. Hmm... If you hear the English Major, what do you think? In Indonesia there are many, you know this department. Some of the reasons or benefits that you can get when you taking English Department are : being able to improve your English language skills, having friends from various countries, having broad job prospects.

The first reason, is it can improve the ability to speak English. By majoring in English you can improve your speaking skills and your understanding of English, because the material is more extensive than in high school or junior high school. And also there will be direct practice, even in starting lessons we are required to use English in communicating or during presentations.

The second reason, is having friends from various countries. Why? because by being able to speak English it means that we master the international language where English is needed anywhere. When we meet western people, whether it's on social media or in person, we can communicate with them well because we already have basic English. We can sharing with westerners without language barriers.

The Reasons of taking English Department.

English literature is a field of study that studies
 English from a linguistic and literary side in depth. In addition, the English department has English Literature and Education.
 In the language education department we will learn about education and how to teach/educate a language. The linguistic component is still being studied as in the literature department, but it focused more on education. Graduates from this department have the prospect of working as teachers or lecturers.

With the reason and advantages of taking English Department:
 The first, English is the main language. As we know that English is very important to learn, because English is an international language that must be studied. On average, all countries learn and make English as a second language after the local language. Not only that, because nowadays everyone uses English. English majors also learn about language grammar and correct spelling. Learning and understanding deep English will make someone fluent in English and not ashamed to talk to foreigners, especially when someone who likes travelling, English is very much needed.

THE REASON OF TAKING ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

English Department is one of the departments in Tarbiyah faculty of IAIN MADURA. It is one of the study programs about language education especially in English language, it is not uncommon for students who choose this study program to have their own reason of course myself, taking the English department for several reasons, there are three reasons why I choose English department.

The first reason is about me who really liked English since grade 2 in junior high school and I continued to develop my liking for English by taking other courses to become something that can be proud of myself. even though in my environment like English it seems as a weird thing, but I do not care about that because I think English is a comfortable subject.

The second reason is because English is very international and famous language and it is often spoken or used in various countries. It is very useful for me who like traveling and want to take a vacation abroad, and also whatever the reason if we go to another country English is so needed, so that we do not get confused in other countries.

The third reason is because I do not have other choice, if I do not choose English Department. Because I think I do not have the ability in other fields, initially my parents told me to choose the Islamic education management department, but I did not want to because I think if I did not like the field I would not be enthusiastic about doing the college.

In conclusion the reason of taking English department can be determine how your future goals will be and what your aspire to be. Because I think that college is about what are we want, what are we like and what we want to achieve.

The Reasons of Taking English Departement.

By: Abdul Basit

I chose the Department of English Education, because English is an international language or global language spoken throught the world. By entering the English Education Department, I hope that someday, I will equip my self with good English skills and be fluent in using English. Being fluent in English will make it easier for us to communicate when traveling far, for example abroad.

In addition, English has broad job prospect. Apart from being a teacher, this departement can also be an online or offline translator, entreptneur, English content writer and the like. I entered the English Education Departement in order to gradually and completely gain knowledge in the field of English. There is one thing that makes me very motivated to take English Education Department, namely, because I really want to be able to speak foreign ~~languages~~ languages besides the language of my own country.

The Reasons of Taking English Department

Reason to major in English major are the most important goals of someone when they want to continue their education to a higher level to hone their abilities. English is a language that is widely used by people in various countries. With English we can communicate and interact between countries, English includes writing, reading, speaking, listening, and we can know how to arrange correct sentence in pronunciation and writing.

- Several reason for choosing English major is because of the international language, it is easy to get a job and face the challenges of the time.
- The first reason for choosing English major is because international language, we know that every meeting held abroad or within the country such as PSBB use English, we can communicate directly without hesitation.
- The second reason is easy to get a job, we know ~~there~~ there are several job that require English, like, doctors, police and Bank. In addition, we can open a study house or become a translator when tourists visit, so we must can be speak English.

A student when he has finished high school will definitely become a student of one of the colleges, of course this student have a big dream to enter his favorite campus. On that campus there are many majors and it will be difficult to choose them but the English department might be a little interesting, what are the highlights of taking an English department? The reasons of taking English department.

As everyone knows, English is an International language. The applications that use English are found everywhere, from smart phone application, all of which use English as the language of instruction. So that by choosing English department, any student will have no difficulty communicating with other people.

English education basically has basic knowledge, namely reading, listening, writing and translating. In addition, this department will also study other sciences that are still related to English such as syntax, linguistic, literature, and of course education

The reason of taking english department.

In this era of globalization, english is very much needed in everyday life, because english is very suitable for students who are confused about taking a major. how come? what is the difference from english department and other department? some of the aspects that differentiate between english department and other department are: broader knowledge, broad job prospects, results.

The first, english education basically has basic knowledge, namely reading, listening, writing and translating. In addition, english department will also study other sciences that are still related to english such as syntax, linguistics, literature, and of course education and innovation. In other department you will not find such a complete course as in english department.

The second, english language education graduates also have broad job prospects. apart from being a teacher, this department can also become an online or offline translator, english content writer and the like. after graduating from college, you have the opportunity to apply for jobs as writers, reporters, tour guides, foreign departments and many more. different with other department, when applying for work, you will definitely be asked for english language skills as well.

The third, because english has a lot of enthusiasts. thus, students majoring in english have the opportunity to open their own courses. the knowledge learned in the english language education department is sufficient to turn these students into non-formal english teachers. that way will have an income even

English department maybe is still make someone affraid because of it name ENGLISH, and DEPARTMENT, but actually english department is a satisfiying term, we can learn one of famous foreign language in the world, learn language more deeply, beside learn how to teach each other especially our students soon , here there is two reason why I chose this department midnight at february 2019 my father told me that I have been selected as a students in fisip UTM bangkalan via SNMPTN and its really shocked me, because irs like dream come true, I have prepared my stuff to study in bangkalan, But oneday my grandftaher suddenly didnt give me admit because he think that bangkalan to far away and he affraid I cant control my stself in bangkalan, because that reason i canceled study in UNIVERSITAS TRUNOJOYO MADURA and for substitution my grandfather giving me cahnce to join in IAIN Madura in english department, because In my father hand english departement is more important than english literature(actually my old department in UTM huhhu.) and finally here lam ari husni as a student of english department 19 of Iain Madura, And I very thankfull have been part of this department that I think hace so many possitive effect to my self beside that why i chose english department because I like watch video in youtube that use english language 100% or 50% like agung hapsah, kittendust and use subtitle english when watch video form russia beavause I like russia by the way, so in high school lam focus tryhard in english while form sd I hate english so more, I try to build my skill in english like take course, try speaking english 5% in my daily life, read literature in english, teachers language like william shakspeare work and etc, I also consume english song in my break time like one direction, Linkin park, nirvana, and ed sharenn (i didnt hear kpop by the way), so in conclusion i chose english because of youtube video and recomandating by my grandpa and i have no regreat untill todyay because in this departmen I meet with kindhearted people like my lecturer and my friend

The Reasons of Taking English Department

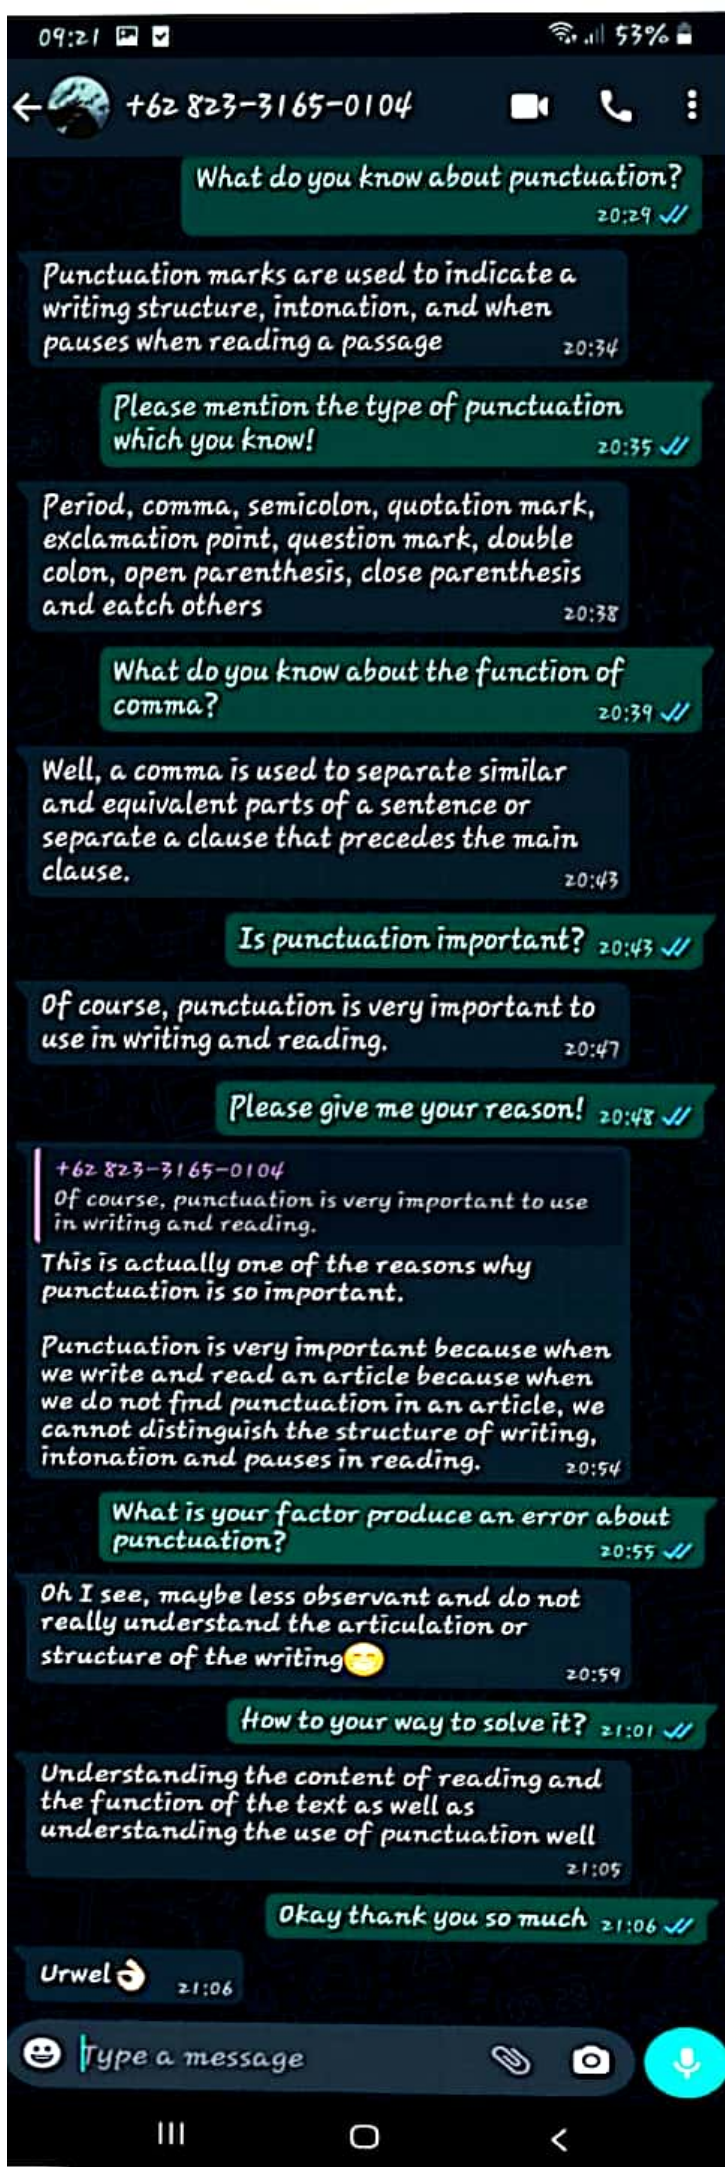

English is used for many things and it is now considered an international language by many countries all around the world. Not only that, English is also an important matter because it has become the language of science, aviation, computers, diplomacy and tourism. However, for me myself, English has become my passion since it is promising in my opinion. Because of this, choosing English Department has turned out to be the motivation and investigation for most students to get the brighter future. Furthermore, there are still some other reasons why students are keen on choosing English Department as their major option.

First, students choose English Department because English can help people to increase their chances to get a promising job besides becoming a ~~teach~~ teacher. According to Ghadr Ali Shah, English is the only language that is globally understood. Having employees with little or no English language is a barrier. Overcoming this barrier can only be done by recruiting staff having knowledge of the language. Besides of that, becoming an English teacher is also important nowadays to ~~help~~ help this country to develop and to compete

What do you know about the function of comma and period?

04:53 ✓✓

The comma must be used in writing when there is a need to put multiple thoughts into one sentence. It is also used to separate items in a list.

The full stop denotes the end. In most situations, it means the end of the sentence. A writer uses a period to demonstrate the end of a complete thought.

Is punctuation important? Please give me your reason!

04:58 ✓✓

Punctuation is the most important element in writing apart from grammar and spelling. Writing without punctuation is just like cooking without salt. Punctuation helps the reader to clearly understand the message that is being conveyed.
